License Types

Individual Model Developer Edition

- Designed to be utilized by a single user on a single computer.
- The user is also granted the right to install ExtendSim on a laptop or home computer, given the computers are not used simultaneously.

Floating Licenses

- The Floating license allows a specified number of simultaneous ExtendSim users on multiple computers in a network environment. It's typically cost-effective when you have 3 or more part-time ExtendSim users (full-time users need Individual licenses.)
- A Floating License must be installed and used within a single, specified continent.

Node-Locked Licenses

- The Node-Locked license is for sequential use on one computer.
- It can be installed on only one computer, but will allow multiple users on that computer access to ExtendSim. It's a great idea for secure environments where many people may need to access ExtendSim on an occasional basis.
